

The Dr. James W. Hemstock Assisted Living Residence is a privately owned retirement community providing assisted living for seniors. The 6 million-dollar project contains 62 apartments as well as many amenities, including a dining room, activity room, social lounge with library, country kitchen and a chapel.

The residence is specifically designed to support independent living with many conveniences, such as a beauty salon, postal boxes, guest suites, event catering services, wellness clinics and laundry service, to name a few. The expertise of Diversicare Management Services has been retained to manage the facility and insure that its residents receive the highest quality of care and services.

To continue a history of dedicated community involvement, Nelson Lumber Company Ltd. is honored to establish a unique and much needed facility that will honor the seniors of Lloydminster and the surrounding area, by welcoming them, helping them, and valuing their many qualities. Through this residence, we will show respect and love for the elderly, so that despite their diminishing strength, they feel a part of society. Through this remarkable facility, we uphold our sense of the past in which the present is firmly rooted.
